FLAT FIRE VICTIM A 'GENTLE GIANT'

By DAN PHILLIPS

daniel.phillips@hertssexnews.co.uk

THE grieving sister of a house-bound man who died in a fire on Sunday night has paid tribute to a "gentle giant".

The body of disabled Stephen Page (57) was found in his Tithe-lands flat by firefighters after brave neighbours had tried in vain to save him by breaking down the front door.

Speaking to the Star on Tuesday, Mr Page's sister Carol Cobbold said she could not bring herself to visit his burned-out home. "I was due in Harlow today to visit him," she said. "I'd do this every couple of weeks to see him and to help him out."

"My eldest daughter went there and said the flat was like something from a horror film."

The death of Mr Page was a tragic end to a difficult life, said Mrs Cobbold. He was obese and had lived on his own since their mother, Dora Page, died shortly before Christmas.

They had moved to Tithe-lands from Pennymead last year.

Mr Page was physically disabled and had suffered from mental illness for a number of years. He had also spent time in the Derwent Centre at Princess Alexandra Hospital.

Mrs Cobbold, who now lives in Wickford, said her brother had worked as a laboratory technician in Harlow before becoming acutely depressed 15-20 years ago.

"He did not go out," she said. "He

Disabled man killed in flat blaze was a 'gentle giant'

was very paranoid and so anxious about things.

"He lived in the house in his own world. Unless you've known someone like that it would seem very odd but he was a big, gentle giant.

"At one time he was married and had a good job. He had a good life then began to get ill. There was no real reason for it to happen; it could happen to anybody."

Firefighters were called to the flat shortly before 11.30pm after receiving reports of thick black smoke coming from the property.

Neighbouring properties had to be evacuated while firefighters fought the blaze and searched the property wearing breathing apparatus.

Less than 20 minutes later crews had extinguished the flames but fire investigation and police scenes of crime officers remained at the scene throughout Monday.

A joint police and fire service investigation is now under way to establish the cause of the blaze.

Mrs Cobbold thanked the neighbours who had broken down Mr Page's front door in an attempt to help him before they were forced back by the smoke.

"He wouldn't have known many of his neighbours," she said. "They were strangers and have families of their own and yet they tried so desperately to help him.

"I am so grateful to these people."

Hospital agrees huge payout to stabbed cabbie

By COURT REPORTER

star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A TAXI driver admitted to Princess Alexandra Hospital after he was seriously injured in a brutal knife attack has won a multi-million pound payout after medical blunders left him with catastrophic brain damage.

Leslie Stephen Dye (57), who used to live in Harlow, was rushed to the hospital after being stabbed by a passenger in his cab on May 3, 2003.

He suffered multiple lacerations to his head, neck and ear as well as a suspected broken nose and required extensive emergency treatment.

He spent 10 days in PAH before being sent home, but lawyers representing Mr Dye claimed hospital staff failed to take note of a CT scan taken five days after the attack which revealed he was at risk of developing an embolism.

On May 17 he suffered a major heart attack and brain haemorrhage before falling into a coma.

Mr Dye, whose family sued the Princess Alexandra Hospital NHS Trust over failures to properly analyse the key CT scan, is now confined to his bed or a wheelchair, can barely communicate and remains dependent on others for 24-hour care.

His counsel, Richard Barraclough, told Mr Justice Burnett at the High Court in London that Mr Dye is now forced to live in a dedicated neurological institute – the Jacob Centre in Sawbridgeworth – where all his acute needs can be met.

Mr Barraclough said Mr Dye's underlying injury and its effects were not picked up as they should have been, leading to heart failure and catastrophic brain injuries.

The PAH NHS Trust admitted liability for Mr Dye's injuries. Barrister Christopher Mellor said the trust had written to his family to apologise for the failings in the care he received in May 2003.

Mr Dye's daughter, Emma Wilson, was in court with her brother Paul as the judge approved a settlement package comprising an £850,000 lump sum payment plus annual, index-linked and tax-free payments of just over £109,000 to cover the enormous costs of his care for as long as he lives.

The judge said the stabbing and its consequences had a "devastating" effect on Mr Dye's life and of all those close to him.

Approving the terms of the payout, he said it was appropriate and safeguarded Mr Dye's best interests.

'Booze ban' proposal to crack down on anti-social behaviour

TRUBLEMAKERS could be hit with an on-the-spot £50 fine or face arrest for drinking alcohol on the streets of Sawbridgeworth.

An alcohol-control zone could be set up in part of the town in a bid to tackle anti-social behaviour.

A public consultation has been launched by the East Herts Community Safety Partnership which is considering applying for a Designated Public Place Order.

This would allow police to confiscate alcohol from troublemakers, who would face a fine or arrest if they refuse.

The proposed DPPO would cover the area of London Road, Bell Street, Knight Street, Great St Mary's churchyard and the Bullfields and Vantorts Road play areas.

Local residents have been sent letters and questionnaires to gauge their views on the proposal.

PC Tina Mustoe, of the Sawbridgeworth Safer Neighbourhood Team, said: "We want people's views on whether they think the DPPO is a good idea and if they think it would help make Sawbridgeworth a safer and better place to live.

"A DPPO doesn't mean people can't enjoy alcohol, but it means we can help prevent people acting anti-socially and inconsiderately in the area by seizing alcohol from them."

Completed questionnaires should be placed in boxes which are located at the town council offices and doctors' surgery – both in Bell Street – or the library in The Forebury by Tuesday, August 31.

Alternatively, they can be posted to Inspector Chris Hunt at Bishop's Stortford police station, Basbow Lane, Bishop's Stortford, CM23 2NA.

Rail station refurb on track for completion

By CHRIS MOSS

chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

WORK is now well under way on upgrading Harlow Town Station as the £390,000 project to modernise the dilapidated building and platforms gathers pace.

The overtrack bridge is currently being refurbished to provide passengers with easier platform access and lifts for disabled customers and those with push-chairs or heavy luggage.

The area will eventually be completely transformed with new floor tiles, re-decorated walls and new lighting.

Outside, the external canopies and fascia boards at the front of the station are also being replaced and renewed, while eight new parking bays for disabled passengers are now in place adjacent to the station forecourt.

The improvement programme – a joint effort by National Express East Anglia, Harlow Renaissance and Essex County Council – is on schedule for completion later this summer and follows the recent completion of the first phase of NXEA's new £3m, 700-capacity multi-storey car park.

The station, a Grade II listed building, will be celebrating its 50th anniversary this summer and NXEA managing director Andrew Chivers said it was due a makeover.

"We are delighted to work in partnership with Harlow Renaissance and Essex County Council on the improvement scheme at Harlow Town, helping to provide much better access for our customers and a greatly enhanced environment, transforming the look and feel of the station in its fiftieth year," he said.

"I am very grateful for the support of our partners which has enabled this project to proceed."

Andrew Bramidge, chief executive of Harlow Renaissance added: "As a gateway into Harlow, the station presents the first image many visitors will have of the town.

Therefore its appearance is of the upmost importance to help deliver a positive and welcoming impression.

"Over the past 50 years hundreds of thousands of people have come through the station doors and we are incredibly pleased that the partnership has been able to undertake this rejuvenation to improve the travel experience for everyone who passes through."

Drugs arrest a 'wake-up call' for man planning to sell cocaine

A HARLOW man caught in possession of 21 wraps of cocaine which he planned to sell to others has avoided being sent to jail.

Marcus Redler (29), of Brockles Mead, pleaded guilty at Chelmsford Crown Court to possessing £492 worth of the drug with intent to supply.

The court heard he was caught at his girlfriend's home in Milwards, Harlow, on October 25 last year after being searched by police officers who were called to a domestic incident.

Samantha Lowther, prosecuting, said the officers found more than £250 in the pocket of Redler's jeans along with 21 packets containing 12.3 grams of powder, 14 per cent of which was cocaine.

He told police: "I do that stuff to make myself a little," adding that he had purchased a total of 38 wraps.

Alex Lindsay, representing Redler, said in mitigation his client had received a positive report from probation after he previously had a serious drugs problem for a number of years.

She added: "He's essentially stopped. This arrest has been a wake-up call."

Imposing a 12 months suspended prison sentence and 200 hours unpaid work, Judge Patrick Moloney told Redler: "You've turned yourself around. It would normally have been a jail sentence for years."

He added: "It was a relatively small amount of cocaine and we don't know the circumstances he would have supplied it in."

Parents urged to apply for students' travel assistance

ESSEX County Council is urging parents of children who will be continuing in further education from September to apply early for financial help in meeting their travel costs.

Students over the age of 16 but under 19 prior to the beginning of the first year of their course, living three or more miles from their place of study and attending the nearest establishment at which the course is offered are eligible to apply for travel assistance.

Stephen Castle, cabinet member for education at County Hall, said it can help to save families hundreds of pounds.

"I would urge families to consider if their child is eligible and if so apply early to ensure the scheme is in place for the start of the new term," he said.

To apply or receive more information on the scheme, contact the council's school transport team on 0845 603 2200, email educationawards@essex.gov.uk or visit www.essex.gov.uk/schooltransport.

Parents are advised to get their applications in as soon as possible to ensure they get their tickets in time for the start of the new academic year.

Lottery boost for Town Park plans

PLANS to revitalise the Town Park have been given a boost after Harlow Council secured £104,000 of Lottery funding to develop the project.

The money will be used to fine-tune existing proposals for the regeneration of the park, including the restoration of Spurriers House, the redevelopment of the bandstand and a facelift for Pets' Corner.

A bid for further funding will then be made in March next year.

Tony Hall, executive committee member and chairman of the council's environment working group, said: "The Town Park is a fantastic public open space. However, some areas are in need of revitalising and it has been a while since any major investment has been put into the park."

"Local people will remember the days when the Spurriers area was always buzzing and this is one of the things we want to bring back."

He added: "It is very good news that our bid towards funding the plans have made it through to the next round but there is still a little way to go and the council's plans are also subject to match funding from other sources."

Fears over cuts to housing benefits

By CHRIS MOSS

chris.moss@hertsexnews.co.uk

FAMILIES in Harlow struggling to make ends meet could have to find an extra £74.22 a month to meet increasing housing costs because of cuts to benefit payments, it was claimed this week.

According to the housing charity Shelter, the cuts announced in last month's budget will mean people claiming the allowance will have to stump up an average of £17.26 extra a week to keep a roof over their heads.

The charity warns that pensioners and families on low incomes could be forced to cut back on essentials or take on extra debt to cover the 8.6 per cent drop in the allowance they receive.

Chief executive Campbell Robb said: "These cuts will have a huge impact on hundreds of households in Harlow and across the country, the majority being pensioners, those with disabilities, people caring for a relative or hardworking people on low incomes."

"Despite trying everything they can to stay afloat, some will be pushed over the edge into a spiral of debt, eviction and homelessness."

He also warned that plans to link LHA rates to inflation instead of basing them on local rents will mean the allowance will not keep pace with rising housing costs.

"The only way to bring the housing benefit bill down in the long term is to address our desperate shortage of social homes, which is pushing more and more people into the private rented sector where rents are almost twice as expensive," he said.

But Harlow MP Robert Halfon insisted most households in Harlow would remain unaffected by the benefit reform.

"This is very difficult issue but these measures are about fairness," he told the Star. "At the moment the housing benefit system is unfair and in many cases is a barrier to helping people into work."

"These reforms will mean hardworking Harlow people will no longer subsidise people living in very expensive properties in other areas of the country. Most Harlow families will be fine and significantly within the new limits."

"In addition, the Government will triple the Additional Discretionary Housing Payments to help the most vulnerable who be could be affected."

Streets among UK's cleanest

A SURVEY of UK towns has found that Harlow has some of the cleanest streets in the country.

The report by the trade union GMB using data compiled by the National Audit Commission concluded that the town is the 11th cleanest in Britain.

Kier Harlow, whose duties include keeping the town's roads and pavements clean for Harlow Council, said that the success had resulted from the introduction of a 'wave' cleaning system.

Doug Goodyer, Kier's regional general manager for environmental services, said: "Before we started the wave system two years ago, the streets in Harlow were cleaned every 12 weeks in sporadic bursts."

"Now we tackle it more regularly in one focused hit, which we have found is very effective for ongoing cleanliness."

He added: "My team are very thorough and I am extremely proud of our achievement. We're like the A Team when we get to work!"

Hospital takes delivery of new aids to giving birth

DELIVERY rooms in Princess Alexandra Hospital's maternity department are being transformed by an array of new high-tech gadgets and birth aids.

The swivelling cord hoist and delivery stool now sit alongside birthing pools and other equipment designed specifically to help women through labour.

Labour suite manager Claire Parker said: "We now have a wide selection of aids for women which allow a greater choice of natural birth options."

"The birthing pools have been in place for several years and new and innovative equipment is being introduced all the time to provide even greater choice."

"The swivelling cord in particular catches people's eyes and causes some puzzlement."

"Actually the cord can be used in a number of ways to allow the woman to pull up and stretch her back during labour and take the weight off her lower back and abdomen."

"She can also use the cord as support so she can deliver her baby in or out of the pool in a vertical 'natural' position."

Shoppers top up Foodbank

GENEROUS shoppers donated 27 crate-loads of food to a charity which helps people in times of financial crisis.

Harlow Foodbank collected the food – as well as £24.54 in cash – from shoppers outside the Asda supermarket in the Water Gardens.

Gary Knott, the charity's director of community services, thanked the staff at Asda for their help. "We had a wonderful collection day where shoppers again exceeded our expectations," he said.

The charity needs to collect more than a tonne of food every month to meet the needs of local people in crisis.

The next Harlow foodbank collection is being held at Sainsbury's in Harlow on Saturday, July 31.

29 (n)ewe arrivals on 'sculpture' trail

By DAN PHILLIPS
daniel.phillips@hertsexnews.co.uk

TOWN centre bosses are hoping a collection of 29 fibreglass sheep will bring visitors flocking into Harlow over the next few months.

The Summertime Sheep Trail will see the life-size and highly decorated animals placed at various locations around the main shopping area.

Maps will be available to guide shoppers and sightseers to the locations.

As well as being a bit of fun, it is hoped the sheep trail will provide visitors with an opportunity to see more of what the town has to offer.

Andrew Bramidge, chairman of the Harlow Town Centre Partnership, said: "Harlow is already known as a sculpture town with its significant permanent collection of 20th century works from artists such as Henry Moore, Elisabeth Frink, Lynn Chadwick, Barbara Hepworth, Auguste Rodin and many others.

"The sheep trail will add colour and fun to the collection until the end of October."

The trail celebrates the sheep-themed Henry Moore exhibition which opens later this month at The Gibberd Gallery. Sheep etchings and other related sculptures and drawings by the sculptor will be on show from July 31 to October 30.

The sheep trail will start at The Water Gardens and take in locations including The Playhouse, Harvey Centre and Market Square

Children will also be encouraged to take part in a sheep-themed colouring competition, with 6,000 cardboard lambs distributed to primary schools throughout the town. A further 2,000 will be available from the Civic Centre reception, The Gibberd Gallery, Gatehouse Arts, the Playhouse, and local libraries.

Youngsters can leave their decorated lambs at a special "lamb pen" in the foyer outside the Asda supermarket. Prizes will then be awarded for the best named lamb as well as the best decorated. Winners will receive family tickets to this year's Playhouse pantomime on December 2.

The main sponsor of the trail is The Water Gardens which will be holding a free workshop on the lawn in front of the Civic Centre this Saturday from noon-3pm for children to help design the decorations for two of the sheep.

The sheep trail will be launched officially on July 31.

Ten-17 to leave town and change its name

HARLOW will lose its only dedicated radio station later this month in a national shake-up of local broadcasting.

Ten-17, which broadcasts from studios at the Latton Bush Centre in Southern Way, will become part of a county-wide station called Heart Essex based in Chelmsford.

Most local content will be sacrificed, with only the breakfast and drivetime shows remaining specific to Essex.

The changes to the national Heart network, which is owned by Global Radio whose portfolio of stations includes Heart, Classic FM and Galaxy, are the result of revised rules governing local radio introduced by regulator Ofcom.

A Global Radio spokeswoman said the company would be investing £7m on infrastructure and systems across the UK but refused to comment on possible redundancies.

"Ten-17 will become part of Heart Essex which will broadcast a local breakfast show and drivetime show," she said. "There will be an enhanced local news service on the hour through daytime," she said.

"The move from the Harlow studio will take place towards the end of the month. I am afraid we cannot comment on presenters at this stage or other employees."

Local radio enthusiast Andrew Ward, of Northbrooks, Harlow, said it was bad news for the town.

"Harlow should have a community radio station," he said. "The most important thing is the local travel news which we won't get anymore if it's coming from Chelmsford."

"Now, only breakfast and drivetime will be local. The rest of the time it will be the same broadcast across the whole country."

Motocross rider injured in crash at village event

A MAN was airlifted to hospital after suffering injuries in an accident during a motocross event at North Weald.

The Essex Air Ambulance was called to the track on Weald Hall Lane at lunchtime on Saturday after the 35-year-old man fell off his bike while attempting a jump.

Dr Mark Shirran and paramedic Laurie Phillipson were on board the helicopter which landed on the motocross circuit.

Mr Phillipson said: "The man had been attempting a jump when he fell off of his motorcycle and initially suffered a loss of consciousness."

"He suffered head, chest, abdominal and spinal injuries. Treatment included a full spinal immobilisation, application of a pelvic sling and intravenous pain relief."

The patient was then flown to the Royal London Hospital at Whitechapel.

Woman robbed by pair who asked her for 50p

A WOMAN was robbed by two people on Saturday night after she refused to give them 50p

The victim was approached by a man and a woman on the corner of Parsonage Leys and Whitewaites at around 9.30pm. The pair asked her for 50p but she refused.

The man then grabbed her handbag from her shoulder, took £15 from a purse and threw the bag on the floor.

He is described as white, aged about 30, 5ft 3ins tall, tanned and of a stocky build. He is also bald and has a round face with thick eyebrows and tattoos on his upper arms.

The woman is described as white, aged about 20, 5ft 3ins tall, very skinny with a pale complexion and long dark hair.

Anyone with any information about the incident should contact PC James Bloomfield at Harlow police station on 0300 333 4444.

We expected this from the Tories but not the Lib Dems

SIR, Robert Halfon rubs his hands with glee at George Osborne's budget (Star, June 24). No surprises there then but on what bizarre planet can it be described as a 'Robin Hood' budget?

Next he'll be asking us to believe that he's always been in favour of the redistribution of wealth.

The budget at its simplest level is one can after another. The coalition states that the measures were "unavoidable". Wrong. Labour set out plans to cut the deficit by half over the course of the next Parliament.

The Tories have chosen to cut the whole of the deficit and more to the tune of £32bn of public services and £11bn of welfare cuts. The risks to jobs and growth by cutting more quickly than is needed was absolutely avoidable, a statement supported by a number of top economists.

We are told that this budget is fair. It is not. Up-rating benefits more slowly means that those at the very bottom are hit the hardest.

Some £6bn of cuts from benefits by the end of the Parliament means those with the least amount of money are expected to shoulder the most pain and 20,000 more people will lose 90p of every extra pound they earn in lost benefits and extra taxes. Making the poor pay the price for the sins of the richest is an outrage.

Apparently we are all in this together, but not if you're a family. They've chosen to cut taxes to banks but hits families hard, with the Sure Start Maternity Grant cut, the Health in Pregnancy Grant scrapped and the baby element of the Child Tax Credit scrapped.

Tax cuts for businesses should not be paid for by penalising hard-working families.

During the election campaign the Tories said they had no plans to put up VAT. The intended increase in VAT to 20 per cent will hit the poorest hardest by cutting into their incomes the most. We have been misled.

The Tories claimed that Labour was lying during the General Election when we warned that the Tories would remove Child Tax Credits from families on £30,000 a year. Yet this budget means that no family with one child over the age of one and income over £30,000 will get a penny in tax credits by 2013.

These cons, betrayals and outrages are no more or less than we have expected from the Tories so perhaps we shouldn't be surprised. What is surprising is that these measures are being supported by the Liberal Democrats. Although they have stooped low locally and nationally over the years, we never expected them to lose their moral compass completely.

Ian Beckett, chair
Harlow Labour Party

Hammering the poor and the powerless

SIR, Robert Halfon made a spirited defence of George Osborne's 'Robin Hood' budget. He claimed it was fair, protecting the poorest and most vulnerable in our society while stabilising the economy. Sadly, he has quickly swallowed coalition spin.

While the budget nods briefly in the direction of fairness, the massive increase in VAT falls hardest on the poorest.

Massive welfare cuts are proposed with more in the pipeline. These will again hit the most vulnerable. They include scrapping tax credits and grants affecting pregnant women and very young children. Disabled living allowances and incapacity benefits are seriously threatened. Capped housing benefits can only increase homelessness. Women particularly bear the brunt of these cuts.

Then there are the cuts of 25 per cent (at least) in public services, losing over a million jobs in the public and dependant private sector. Those relying on public support as well as benefits will be doubly hit.

I agree that banks should pay us back for bailing them out. However, banks who got us into this mess escape with a small levy of £2bn, while bonuses continue to soar.

This budget was not unavoidable but a conscious choice to cut too fast and too deep for an already fragile economy. Appearing to punish banks, it savagely hammers the poor and powerless. Small state Thatcherism lies at its heart. I wonder how many Harlow Liberal Democrats voted for that?

Justice is part of the community it serves

SIR, Although it saddens me to say this, according to published data the crime figures for Harlow in 2008/9 were significantly above the average for England in all of the following categories – violence against the person, sexual offences, robbery, burglary and theft of and from motor vehicles.

And whilst I may have some sympathy with Minister for Justice Ken Clarke's stated approach to the overcrowding of prisons and to possible ways of reducing the rates of recidivism (although I have doubts about the ability of the private and voluntary sectors to take on many of the roles he describes), there nevertheless remains the need to ensure that justice is administered without undue delay and is seen as being part of, and relevant to, the community it reportedly serves.

How then can the coalition government justify even the suggestion of closing Harlow Magistrates Court? Perhaps our MP or his Tory and Liberal Democrat colleagues can enlighten us?

Tony Edwards
Felmongers, Harlow

Thank you all for our fantastic day in Harlow

SIR, We would like to express our thanks to those residents of the Bishopsfield estate who very kindly opened their amazing gardens to the public.

We were privileged to visit many of the gardens and terraces and meet residents, many of whom have lived there since the estate was built and who still have the original sense of commitment and excitement about the home and the way of life that Harlow opened up in the 1970s.

The courtyard gardens are fantastic – quite extraordinary planting and diversity of design. The design of the homes and the attention to detail is brilliant and a great tribute to both the architect and to the concept of Harlow.

It was also great to see young families in some of the homes that shared a similar excitement with their homes and about life on the estate as the original tenants do.

We finished off the day with a fitting tribute to Sir Frederick Gibberd at his remarkable garden and home on the edge of the town.

It was a fantastic day in Harlow.

Helping to raise public awareness of dementia

SIR, This week is Dementia Awareness Week in England. This year's theme is 'Remember the Person' and the Alzheimer's Society is asking everyone to think about the people they know living with dementia and the simple things they can do to make life more manageable and enjoyable.

There are 750,000 people with dementia in the UK and one-in-three people over 65 will die with dementia. It is a physical and progressive condition and can be caused by stroke or diseases of the brain. Symptoms include loss of memory, mood changes and confusion.

Here in Harlow the Alzheimer's Society provides a range of local support services, including a dementia support service, a carers break service, a memory café and a leisure and wellbeing service to help people to live well with dementia.

As MP for Harlow, I am supporting Dementia Awareness Week and hope Star readers will be able to show their support. If you have any concerns about your own memory or you know someone who is confused and forgetful and would like further information, the Alzheimer's Society is holding information stands during the week.

They will be in Harlow Library from 9.30am-2.30pm today (Thursday) and there will be an information stand in the Harvey Centre from 9.30am-2.30pm tomorrow (Friday). You can speak to a dementia support worker in attendance who can speak to you in confidence.

Build homes for rent on swimming pool site

SIR, It is good to see that the once pride and joy of Harlow – the swimming pool – is at last being knocked down (Star, July 1)

Let's hope the council and the developers build rented homes for people on the waiting list as many can't afford private rents.

Wheelie bins push up town recycling rate

THE amount of household waste being recycled in Harlow has doubled over the past year.

According to latest figures released by the council this week, residents are currently recycling and composting just over 50 per cent of their waste compared to around 25 per cent last year.

Council chiefs said the improvement is largely due to the introduction last year of alternate weekly waste and recycling collections.

At the time the measures were criticised by some residents who complained the introduction of thousands of wheeled bins to the town would spoil the appearance of their neighbourhoods.

But Tony Hall, chairman of the council's environment working group, said the introduction of the new collection system had resulted in more items being recycled.

"This includes food waste, which used to get buried at landfill but is now composted via a separate weekly collection," he said.

"Not only have residents recycled more but the figures also show that more waste is being reduced and reused. We want to continue to help residents recycle all they can as well as reduce and reuse their waste.

"The town is now recycling double what we were, which is a fantastic achievement by residents."

He added: "Whether 50 per cent is sustainable over the year is not yet proven, so I urge residents to keep up their excellent recycling efforts and to do all they can to ensure every scrap of recyclable waste goes into the right bin or bag."

For information on recycling, log on to www.harlow.gov.uk/recycling.

Council homes to get smoke alarms

HUNDREDS of council homes in Harlow are to have smoke alarms fitted as part of a new fire safety initiative.

Over the next few months Kier Harlow will fit the alarms supplied by Essex County Fire and Rescue Service when they carry out gas safety checks on council-owned properties.

Divisional Officer Mark Samuels, community commander for Harlow and Epping, said the partnership would provide the opportunity to install alarms in the homes of people who may not otherwise have thought about fitting one.

"A smoke alarm is the single most important piece of equipment in any home," he said. "They provide a vital warning at the first sign of fire, giving you and your family time to get out and to safety before calling us in."

The first homes to be fitted with alarms will be flats in high-rise blocks as they are considered to be one of the most important target groups.

Playground delayed, but children in Potter Street will still have a pool to paddle in

THE construction of a new playground and water play feature in Potter Street has been delayed following the discovery of Roman ruins on the site.

As reported in the Star in March, builders unearthed the remains of what was later identified as a Roman tile kiln when digging foundations for the new playground.

Building work was stopped for eight weeks while a team of experts from Wessex Archaeology investigated the remains, which have now been protected in situ.

Harlow Council had hoped the new play area – the first phase of a project to regenerate the Potter Street area – would be finished in time for the start of the summer holidays but the expected opening date has now been pushed back until later this year.

However, to ensure that youngsters will have somewhere to cool off in the summer months, the authority has decided to reopen the Potter Street paddling pool later this month.

Joel Charles, chairman of the council's community & citizenship working group, said: "The archaeological find was very exciting for the area, but unfortunately this delayed building work on the new water play feature and was entirely unavoidable.

"However, families will receive the same level of service as last year as we have made arrangements to open the paddling pool instead."

● HARLOW Council's six paddling pools will open from July 22. The pools, which are located at Bush Fair, the Norman Booth Centre, Summers, Staple Tye, Potter Street and the Town Park, will be open from 10am-6pm each day.

Tragedy that led fundraiser Nicki on 'wonga' walk

IN LOVING MEMORY: Nicki Walker at the grave of her sister Tania, who died after suffering an epileptic seizure

By DAN PHILLIPS

daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A HARLOW woman will be walking for 'wonga' in memory of her sister who died after suffering an epileptic seizure.

Nicki Walker has been raising money and awareness of the condition after she lost her sister, Tania Knight, in 2003. Now Nicki (43), of Longbanks, has organised a wonga walk through the Lea Valley Park on Sunday to raise funds for Epilepsy Action, the UK's largest member-led epilepsy charity.

"My sister sadly died after an epileptic seizure when she was 37," said Nicki. "I have been trying to raise as much money as I can ever since to help people with epilepsy and raise awareness of the condition."

"I'm really looking forward to the sense of team spirit as we walk around the lovely venue. We are also planning to finish with a picnic, which will be a great way to celebrate us completing the walk."

Nicki hopes the leisurely six-mile trek, which should take about three hours, will raise at least £1,000. It starts at 10.30am on Sunday and is suitable for people of all abilities and route maps will be provided.

It is hoped 40 walkers will complete the route, which starts and finishes at the Fishers Green car park in Waltham Abbey.

It is one of several wonga walks taking place across the country to celebrate Epilepsy Action's 16th anniversary.

The charity is hoping walkers will clock up close to 10,000 miles, equivalent to walking to Timbuktu and back.

To achieve this target, Epilepsy Action needs at least 60 walking groups of 25 people, each walking six miles.

The money raised will help fund the vital advice and information services provided by the charity. To join Nicki on the walk, call her on (01279) 865801 or 07947 813 553 or email nickiwalker@mail.com. Anyone wanting to sponsor her can do so on her online sponsorship page at www.justgiving.com/Nicki-Walker.

City banker Paul is the new curate at St Mary's

A CITY worker from Harlow has been ordained as a deacon by the acting Bishop of Chelmsford.

Paul Cracknell, who worships at St Mary Magdalene Church in Harlow Common, grew up in Stanstead Abbots but now lives in the town.

He was ordained by the Rt Rev Dr Laurie Green, Bishop of Bradwell and acting Bishop of Chelmsford, during a service at Chelmsford Cathedral on Sunday.

Mr Cracknell works as an assistant senior manager at a Japanese bank in the City of London.

Married with two daughters, he is a keen ornithologist and enjoys listening to jazz and watching cricket.

He has spent the past three years training for the ministry at St Mellitus College and will now serve as a curate at St Mary Magdalene.

A spokeswoman for the Chelmsford diocese said: "As a child Paul attended church but drifted away during his teens.

"He and his wife Clare returned to the life of the church at St Mary Magdalene following the birth of their eldest child."

The role of a deacon is to assist the priest. They lead worship, preach, teach, visit the sick and conduct baptisms and funerals.

Council funding for community projects

THE organisers of community projects in Harlow are being given the chance to apply for grants of up to £4,000 from Essex County Council.

The council's West Essex Area Forum has been allocated £50,000 to support schemes that have not already received cash from County Hall.

County councillor Guy Mitchinson, who represents the Harlow West division, said the maximum individual allocation will be around £4,000.

To qualify for a grant, the projects must improve people's lives and have the support of the local community. Matched funding is desirable but not essential.

An application form can be obtained by calling Yvette Wetton on (01206) 436079 or email yvette.wetton@essex.gov.uk. The closing date for applications is October 5.

"To my continuing annoyance Harlow has lagged behind neighbouring areas like Epping, Brentwood and Uttlesford in securing grants under schemes such as this," said Mr Mitchinson.

"So please, if you think you may meet the criteria contact Yvette Wetton today. Remember, nothing ventured, nothing gained."

Centre launch for new co-operative

A NEW co-operative has been launched in Harlow to help adults with learning difficulties gain work and social skills.

Elbow Grease has been helped in its transition into a co-operative by the Co-operative Enterprise Hub.

Harlow MP Robert Halfon, who attended the launch at the Harvey Centre, said: "Elbow Grease is a great initiative as it is a new co-operative business whose members might have some disabilities but are ready and willing for this new enterprise. "I am sure it will be a great success."

The launch also marked the beginning of the first ever Co-operative Fortnight which saw organisations including Harlowsave Credit Union, Co-operative Gateway East of England and the Co-operative Group set up displays in the shopping centre.

Prize draw deadline for Midnight money

THIS year's Midnight Walk has been and gone but organisers are reminding all those who took part to send in their sponsorship money.

More than 1,400 people completed the 10km walk around Harlow, raising over £100,000 for the St Clare Hospice at Hastingwood.

But now the walk is over it is important the money they raised is sent in as quickly as possible.

Everyone who raised sponsorship and sends it in by July 30 will be entered into a prize draw. The individual and team that raise the most money will also win a special prize.

WIN Tickets to see dance group Diversity at a family fun day

B RITAIN'S Got Talent winners Diversity will be making a special appearance at the Duke of Essex Polo Trophy this year.

Taking place on July 17 in the beautiful surroundings of the Gaynes Park Estate near Epping, the Duke of Essex Polo Trophy is renowned as a fantastic family day out.

And this week we are giving you the chance to win one of FIVE sets of family tickets (two adults, two children) to this fun-packed event, the highlight of which promises to be a performance by Diversity.

With 11 members hailing from Essex and east London, Britain's favourite street dance group has been dancing together since 2007. They will be appearing in both the family enclosure and the VIP marquee so every visitor will get the chance to see their energy packed performances.

The group is due to perform at around 1pm so if you want to catch them make sure you arrive in plenty of time. Gates are open from 11.30am.

This year the event has chosen Haven House Children's Hospice to be its charity partner. Haven House is a local charity offering care for children and young people with life-limiting conditions. Diversity recently became patrons for the Woodford based hospice.

The charity auction in the VIP enclosure will be in aid of Haven House and will include a unique opportunity to dance with Diversity.

The Duke of Essex Polo Trophy is now in its fifth year and brings polo to the masses, giving everyone the opportunity to experience this thrilling, fast-paced sport. There is also a family fun day until 7pm, where guests of all ages can enjoy a host of entertaining activities including a funfair, face painting, marching bands, show jumping, barbecues, Shetland pony dinky derby, picnics, jousting and aerobatics displays.

To enter our great competition,

Minister's visit mirrors a scene from a hit film

By DAN PHILLIPS

daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

AT first glance this could be a scene from Quentin Tarantino's cult classic film Reservoir Dogs.

But in this case it's not Mr White, Mr Pink, Mr Blonde et al sauntering menacingly across a Los Angeles vista.

The photograph was actually taken on the day the Harlow Welfare Rights & Advice Centre opened many years ago.

This is probably the first and only time former Labour MP and minister Roy Hattersley could be mistaken for Harvey Keitel's Mr White.

And instead of an LA industrial estate, the setting here is Market Square. The group are walking along East Gate from the Terminus Street end and towards the advice centre.

The centre was opened by Mr Hattersley in July 1978 so there is no way that the photographer can be accused of trying to mimic the iconic image from the film, which was released in 1993. It is just a remarkable coincidence that will bring a wry smile to film fans.

In the front row from the left we can see then Harlow Council chairman John Moore, Mr Hattersley at the time was Minister of Prices and Consumer Protection and council leader Martin Lawn. We are less sure of the men walking behind. The pair on the right are probably council officers, according to local history officer David Devine who found the picture in the archives at the Museum of Harlow.

He believes they may be Martin Kay, head of information services which managed the centre, and a welfare rights officer called Mr Hammond.

● If you have any memories or pictures you would like to share with our readers send them to Nostalgia, Harlow Star, 6 West Gate, Harlow, CM20 1JW or email daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

NOSTALGIA UPDATE: Harlow Sportcentre

FOLLOWING the recent opening of the Harlow Leisurezone complex, we asked you to turn back the clock to when its predecessor the Sportcentre opened.

In response, Harlow Council licensing officer Terry Perris (51) unearthed this little gem from the family album.

It probably dates back to 1964-65 and shows Terry, in the middle, flanked by his older brother and sister Peter and Susan.

In the background is the centre's stadium and athletics track which opened at the beginning of the decade.

The family moved to Pittmans Field from the Paddington and Kilburn areas of west London in 1959.

"There were a lot of open days there and it was the only place to go in the '60s," said Terry. "In its day it was one of the best sport centres around."

Terry has since moved to Saffron Walden, but Peter and Susan still live in the town.

25 years ago . . .

Hospital cash crisis

Whole wards at Princess Alexandra Hospital could close if the West Essex Area Health Authority does not get government aid. Inaccurate assessments of staff wage increases have produced a shortfall of £500,000.

That's Life in town

The team from the popular Television show That's Life was in town to film a story about Harlow man Pete Mead's doorbell. The bell seems to have a mind of its own and plays one of its 12 musical tones at 7.30am every morning when the central heating fires up.

Post office petition

Some 3,000 elderly Harlow residents, fed up with being pushed and shoved while waiting for their pensions, have signed a petition demanding post offices introduce orderly crocodile queues. The petition was present at the town's main post office.

Death of ex councillor

Ernie Myer, a former Harlow Labour councillor, died at his home in Vine Grove, Gilston, aged 61. Mr Myer represented Lutton Bush for about 10 years and was chairman of the parks and recreation committee.

Ancient sea monster that dined on whales

THE fossilised remains of a gigantic sea monster which swam in the oceans millions of years ago has been discovered in South America.

The 17-metre-long whale boasted a fearsome set of razor-sharp 14-inch teeth and most probably preyed on other whales, seals and dolphins.

The creature has been given the name Leviathan melvillei in honour of author Herman Melville, whose book Moby Dick told the story of a mythical white whale.

JAWS: An artist's impression of Leviathan melvillei attacking another whale

The skull and teeth of Leviathan melvillei were dug up in the country of Peru.

Scientist Dr Christian de Muizon said: "Living at the same time and in the same waters was another monster, which was a giant shark about 15 metres long. "It's possible that they might have fought each other."

No one is sure why Leviathan died out, although it could have been because of the changing environment.

Today's sperm whales have entirely different feeding habits and much smaller teeth. Much of the time they eat squid.

Sadly, due to overhunting by humans, it is estimated that there are only around 200,000 sperm whales left in the world's oceans, making these gentle giants an endangered species.

Family tribute to motorcyclist killed in crash

The family of a motorcyclist killed in a road collision have paid tribute to him.

Steven Martin (29), of Greynose Park, Harlow, died after his black Suzuki motorcycle was involved in an accident with a London taxi driven by a 40-year-old man from Sawbridge-worth last Tuesday.

The accident happened at 7.35pm on the A1060 Roxwell Road near to Newland Hall in Chelmsford.

Mr Martin lived with Deb, his partner of 13 years, and had run his own garage business - SM Harlow Automotive - for the past eight years.

His passions were fitness, the gym and running, and he was planning to run a marathon next year. He also helped out at a kick-boxing group called The Edge.

This week his family released a statement in which they said: "Steven was also in to motorcycles and attended sessions at North Weald where he would be timed over a quarter mile track."

STEVEN MARTIN

"We are most proud of him starting his own business. He will be sadly missed by Deb, his mum and dad and his brother Paul, as well as many other family members and friends."

Officers continue to appeal for witnesses to the collision to contact police at the central road policing unit on 0300 333 4444.

County council seeks bus users views on travel pass

ESSEX County Council is asking people with national bus passes for their views about the application process and features of the pass that are most important to them.

From April next year County Hall will take over responsibility for issuing national bus passes to older and disabled people.

Whilst the main features of the passes will not change, the county council is seeking opinions about the additional benefits which are currently offered and which are the most important.

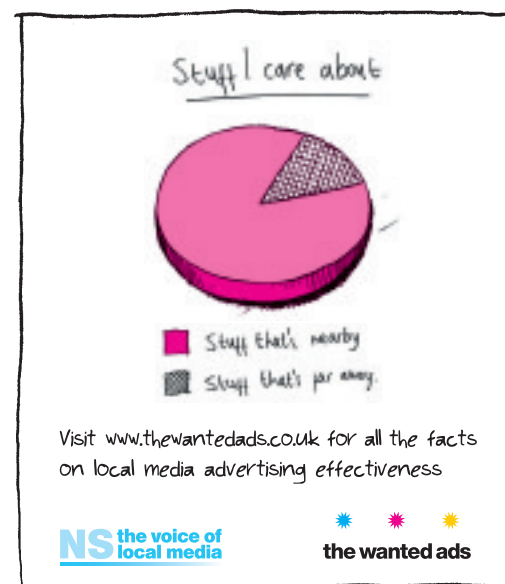

Residents can take part in the consultation by visiting the website at www.essex.gov.uk/buspass or calling 0845 743 0430 to request a copy. People can also submit their comments in writing to ENCTS Consultation, Essex County Council, County Hall, Chelmsford CM1 1YY.

County councillor Norman Hume, cabinet member for highways and transportation, said: "I'd encourage all bus pass holders in Essex to take part in the consultation."

"Customer satisfaction is a key priority and we will be conducting a full review of all 12 of the separate schemes."

WIN Tickets to LINKFEST

FESTIVAL fever hits Harlow next weekend as a host of bands line up for Linkfest – and you could rock out for free by entering our fantastic competition!

Set in the spacious playing fields bordering the Great Parndon Community Association in Parsloe Road, the new festival will feature live music, dance, drama, children's entertainment and much much more.

And with a line-up that includes raucous rockers The Subways, proto-punk legends Eddie & The Hot Rods and local heroes Popdad, The Ten O Sevens, Bite and Anthem, it's shaping up to be an unmissable gig.

Co-organised by The GPCA Link Club, The Square and drama school Phoenix, this one-day event takes place on Sunday, July 18.

This week the Star has one family ticket (two adults and two children) and two pairs of adult tickets to give away. For your chance to win, simply tell us which of the following bands is playing at Linkfest:

- a) The Underpasses
- b) The Subways
- c) The Undergrounds

To enter, visit www.harlowstar.co.uk, follow the Leisure & Lifestyle link and click on the 'Competitions' tab and enter 'Harlow Star Linkfest' in the competition name line.. The judges' decision is final and usual Herts & Essex Newspapers terms and conditions apply. No cash alternative. Closing date for entries is Thursday, July 15.

Season's final  is an Absurd choice

By CHRIS MOSS
chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

EVERYTHING including the kitchen sink will feature in a deliciously dark comedy opening at Moot Hall tomorrow (Friday) as Harlow's longest-running amateur dramatics group present their final play of the season.

Set in three domestic kitchens over three successive Christmas Eves, Moot House Players' adaptation of Alan Ayckbourn's Absurd Person Singular features three disparate couples unwillingly thrown together by a succession of dire festive celebrations.

And to add to the domestic atmosphere, two of the couples are played by husband and wife teams – Alan and Angela Hodge take on the roles of bullish, womanising architect Geoffrey and his depressed wife Eva while Tim and Nic Parkes play world-weary bank manager Ronald and his lush of a wife Marion.

Completing the cast as pushy Sidney, a wheeler-dealer tradesman determined to climb the social ladder, and his houseproud, put-upon wife Jane are Dan Powell and Kerry Rowland.

The production, which runs until Saturday evening, is directed by Ayckbourn enthusiast Jon McNamara who has been at the helm of a number of MHP's adaptations of Sir Alan's plays in recent years.

Players' chairman Geoff Leeds said: "This is a masterful comedy in three kitchens. Nothing beats the delight of discovering the twists and turns as it unfolds.

"Let's just say that it's a parable of class and attitude in the finest Ayckbourn manner – funny, absorbing and dark all at once."

● Absurd Person Singular will be staged at Moot Hall, The Stow, from tonight (Thursday) until Saturday. Performances begin at 8pm and tickets cost £8 (£6 unwaged) from the box office on (01279) 639170.

More the merrier as nine join Oliver! cast TALENTED youngsters from a Harlow dance school can now consider themselves at home among the cast of smash hit musical Oliver! after wowing the judges at an open audition.

Nine students from Makin' Steps, based at the Potter Street Community Centre, have landed parts in the West End production and will join the star-studded cast for rehearsals in September.

Bayley Summerfield, Shannon McQuillan, Rhiannon Clark, Megan McMahon, Drew Cooper, Caroline Smith, Luke Stockley, Reece Kent and Lily Hawthorne will then make their West End debuts in October, spending several months on the show.

Makin' Steps tutor Scott Simpson said: "When we got the call from the producers to say they would like to offer nine of our students the parts we were over the moon!

"To get maybe one or two in the show would have been a great achievement, but to have nine pupils make it is just amazing. "The students all take lessons in dance, singing and acting with us at the school and it's this training with qualified, experienced teachers that has given them the skills needed to get into a professional show like this."

For more information about Makin' Steps' upcoming summer school, call (01279) 304937 or log on to the school's website at www.makin-steps.co.uk

Sworn enemies must form unholy alliance

TWILIGHT SAGA: ECLIPSE certificate 12A 2h4m

THE tug of war for the affections of Bella Swan (Kristen Stewart) reaches a crucial juncture in the latest film based on Stephenie Meyer's best-selling teen romances.

In the same way that the film version of Harry Potter And The Prisoner Of Azkaban was the darkest and most satisfying instalment of its series, this third helping of brooding vampires and snarling werewolves is the most entertaining to date.

Director David Slade deserves some of the credit, cranking up the tension between suitors Edward and Jacob against a backdrop of impending civil war between rival bloodsucking factions.

The leading cast have also settled into their iconic roles and Pattinson, especially, runs the gamut of emotions as his fanged hunk risks losing his soul-mate.

Graduation approaches for Bella and the teenager must choose between Edward (Pattinson), the vampire who won her heart, and Jacob (Lautner), the best friend who has snuck into her affections.

Rejection for one young man could potentially ignite the ancient rivalry between the lycans and the bloodsuckers.

Meanwhile, Victoria (Bryce Dallas Howard) returns to Washington to kill Bella in revenge for Edward's slaying of her lover. She brings with her a new race of vampires with phenomenal strength, led by local boy Riley (Xavier Samuel), and only the combined forces of sworn enemies the Cullens and the Blacks can stop these ferocious, blood-crazed predators.

Twilight Saga: Eclipse is a fast-paced romp that should delight ardent fans and draw in a few newcomers with briskly edited action sequences.

The menage a trois generates the film's dramatic momentum, leading to tears and tantrums as the enormity of the situation becomes clear. Unfortunately, the character's long-awaited declaration of love is unintentionally hilarious rather than touching.

Stewart enjoys snogging her two handsome co-stars and Howard has such limited screen time it makes a mockery of the ballyhoo surrounding her re-casting as Victoria.

Fight sequences are orchestrated at breakneck pace, although some of the digital effects don't gel seamlessly with the live action.

Eclipse neatly sets the scene for the heartache of the final film, Breaking Dawn, which is scheduled for release in two parts in 2011 and 2012.

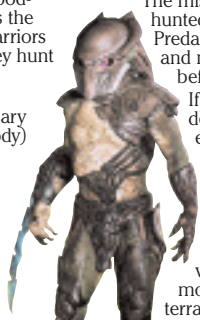

Killers on the hunt for human prey

PREDATORS certificate 15 1h47m

FOLLOWING on from Aliens Vs Predators and its 2007 sequel, Nimrod Antal's blood-spattered film puts the extra-terrestrial warriors centre stage as they hunt another hapless group of humans.

Tenacious mercenary Royce (Adrien Brody) heads for an alien planet where he quickly surmises that he has been led into a trap alongside a group of cold-blooded convicts and killers including Israeli Defence Forces sniper Isabelle (Alice Braga), drug cartel leader Cuchillo (Danny Trejo) and disgraced physician, Edwin (Tophre Grace).

The misfits are systematically hunted by a new breed of Predator which is even faster and more cunning than before.

If Royce and his fellow degenerates are to escape the alien planet, they must combine their unique talents and outwit their wily pursuers with help from Noland (Laurence Fishburne), who has survived for months in the hostile terrain.

>>>SHREK FOREVER AFTER (3D & 2D)

Shrek (voiced by Mike Myers) is suffering a mid-life crisis with mewling kids and his beautiful and pungent wife, Fiona (Cameron Diaz). In his hour of desperation, the jolly green ogre meets the conniving Rumpelstiltskin (Walt Dohrn), who offers a tantalising deal: he will gift Shrek one whole day as a scary ogre – just like in the past – in return for signing away one day of his childhood. Shrek agrees to the Faustian pact, blind to Rumpelstiltskin's devious plan to erase the day that Shrek was born and thereby alter the future. Shrek must join forces with Donkey (Eddie Murphy) and Puss In Boots (Antonio Banderas) to break the pact before the sands in Rumpelstiltskin's oversized hourglass run out.

>>>GET HIM TO THE GREEK

After years of dizzying success, rock star Aldous Snow (Russell Brand) releases an album which is lambasted by critics. Soon after, the singer breaks up with his girlfriend and falls into disrepute in London. During a meeting with record company supremo Sergio (Sean Combs), underling Aaron Green (Jonah Hill) hits upon the idea of a 10th anniversary comeback concert to celebrate Snow's most famous live outing at the Greek Theater in Los Angeles. Despite initial reservations, Sergio eventually agrees and issues his minion with an ultimatum: "From the moment you touch down, you have 72 hours to get Aldous Snow to the Greek." Unfortunately, Aldous loves to party, leading to a series of debauched encounters that jeopardise Aaron's relationship with his girlfriend.

>>>kids club

>>>THE PRINCESS AND THE FROG A fairytale set in jazz age-era New Orleans and centred on a young girl named Tiana and her fateful kiss with a frog prince who desperately wants to be human again.

>>>PERCY JACKSON & THE LIGHTNING THIEF A teenager discovers he's the descendant of a Greek god and sets out on an adventure to settle an on-going battle between the gods.

>>>MONSTERS vs ALIENS When a meteorite from outer space hits a young woman and turns her into a giant monster, she is taken to a secret government compound where she meets a ragtag group of monsters also rounded up over the years.

Aries Mar 21-Apr 20
The Moon in your sign Aries gets at cross purposes with the Sun. The suggestion is that you and a flat mate or family member can want different things at home or there can be a lack of simpatico between you. If you feel that you have to give way, or hold off on something that you really want to do, you may find yourself grinding your teeth in exasperation. Call now for more astral advice

Libra Sept 24-Oct 23
Uranus may not have been in your opposite sign of Aries for long, and this week it decides to slam the brakes on. With Jupiter also squaring the powerful Pluto this just points towards not being too hasty around any relationship issue, and especially linked to where you live. Yet an old business contact or pre-existing talent could come in very handy indeed. Call for your love scope in full

Taurus Apr 21-May 21
Later this month Saturn will finally roll out of a very tricky part of your situation, after an on-off passage of the last three years. This planet rewards hard work and specifically this week any toll which has been linked to studies, mental activities or creative ventures. Yet just as you achieve this, silly gossip could spoil what can otherwise be a very special moment. Call now for more news

Scorpio Oct 24-Nov 22
Most of us exaggerate from time to time. Whether it is how far we say we dived off the cliff into the sea on vacation (please don't try this at home...) or how much we stood up to a rowdy group on public transport, the story can gain weight on each telling. But if you prime up your credentials on the job front, you really do need to be able to deliver Scorpio. Call for more news and advice

Gemini May 22-Jun 21
A powerful mix between the Sun and Mars can see you clear away any home based tasks with aplomb. If you are a DIY fiend you may find yourself erecting a new garden shed or converting an attic space. Your determination to get things done can be awesome. If you work from home, you can be equally productive. Value for money home buys also figure. Call for your financial forecast

Sagittarius Nov 23-Dec 21
Mercury and Saturn combine, and this can help you to really focus on any details. Any ambitious plans have a good chance of success, because you can see both the potential and the challenges. Yet in love, someone who initially seemed so alluring can lose a little bit of their sparkle, perhaps because they're too clingy. They can soon disappear off your radar. Call for your love scope

Cancer Jun 22-Jul 23
Your energy remains high and no one will be any doubt that you mean business, therefore, this is a super time for starting new projects and especially ones where you can utilize your intellect. If you enjoy writing and have always felt that there was a blockbuster bestseller buried somewhere inside of you or a dassy screenplay, why not get this typed up now? Call now for your in-depth forecast

Capricorn Dec 22-Jan 20
An impulsive desire to move or spruce up an existing abode needs to be balanced against any unsettledness that this can cause. Where possible keep the lines of communication open. An ability to weigh up different points of view can also be helpful. There is never only one way of doing anything, and hearing others out can prove more than useful Capricorn. Call for more advice

Leo Jul 24-Aug 23
Venus, in your sign, goes face to face with the mysterious Neptune and this can either provoke a serious and sizzling attraction or leave you feel totally confused about your own needs or someone else's intentions. You can continue to feel over-sensitive, so avoid those who drain you or who make too many physical demands. Be a little selfish if need be Leo. Call for your love scope in full

Aquarius Jan 21-Feb 19
Your co-ruler Uranus yanks on the proverbial celestial brakes and it could be that a novel idea of yours requires a lot more thought. Don't write this off. We are talking about the need for modification, not an outright failure. In fact, the stars offer you a wonderful chance to find a solution. You just need to be totally down to earth and also completely realistic. Call for more

Virgo Aug 24-Sept 23
A lack of flexibility or freedom at work can see you scanning the Situations Vacant. You are thinking both in terms of your individual needs and your future. A predictable plod can lose its appeal. Perhaps you are going to need to let go of this safe number and be more daring - if you are, going to truly fulfill your needs. If need be, visit a careers or professional advisor. Call for more

Pisces Feb 20-Mar 20
Someone who has been quite flirty up until now, may be more serious about you than you might realize. A long chat can reveal more. Indeed, even if you meet someone for business purposes, there can be a meeting of minds which can be lasting and very productive. Check again though, through all those bills. An outstanding one may have slipped through the net. Call for your financial scope

YOUR HOME MAY BE REPOSSESSED IF YOU DO NOT KEEP UP REPAYMENTS ON A MORTGAGE OR ANY OTHER DEBT SECURED ON IT. *Subject to status, terms and conditions apply. Scheme cannot be used in conjunction with any other Barratt offer. See www.barratthomes.co.uk for full details. Barratt Homes is the trading name of BDW Trading Limited (company number 03018173) whose office address is Barratt House, Cartwright Way, Forest Business Park, Bardon Hill, Coalville, Leicestershire, LE67 1UF. BDW is a subsidiary of Barratt Developments Plc. BDW together with the Homes & Communities Agency ("HCA") provide an equity loan of 30% of the purchase price of the property. The equity loan provided by BDW and the HCA are secured as second and third charges on your property which rank equally against it. The amount you have to repay to BDW and the HCA may be more than the equity loan provided. Selected plots only. 6.24% typical APR is based on average house prices over 20 years between 1988 and 2008 in England and an average redemption period of 6.92 years. £4,725 deposit is based on a 5% deposit after 30% loan applied (i.e. 3.5% of purchase price and assumes a purchase price of £135,000). Sporty looks with all-round style

By MATT JOY

IT'S all very well sampling a manufacturer's latest product for a day or even a week, but to find out all there is to know about a car you can't beat living with one every day.

So say hello to the Seat Leon FR TDI, which will have to cope with everything that life can throw at it.

Just like when you're spending your own hard-earned, getting the model and specification right is crucial. The FR sits just below the full-on Cupra models in the Leon range and promises hot hatch looks and performance but crucially comes with the option of diesel power, making it a true all-rounder.

The 2.0-litre common rail diesel offers a generous 168bhp and a mighty 258lb.ft of torque to back it up.

This particular Leon also looks the part, not only because the FR add-ons give it real dynamism, but the combination of the white exterior colour and the optional black 18-inch alloy wheels is a winner.

FACT file

Seat Leon FR
TDI CR 5-door
DSG

£20,990

ENGINE 2.0-litre diesel unit delivering 168bhp and 258lb.ft of torque

TRANSMISSION 6-speed dual clutch driving front wheels

PERFORMANCE 0-62mph in 8 seconds / top speed 133mph

ECONOMY Overall 38.4mpg / best 51.8mpg

Despite its relative familiarity, the Leon turns heads wherever it goes and also pulls off the neat trick of looking smart whether dirty or clean. Any nerves about kerbing the alloys has so far been allayed, thanks to the fact that the spokes curve inwards towards the wheel rim.

The option box for the DSG gearbox has also been ticked instead of the standard six-speed manual. Although it adds £1,240 to the price, within a few hundred miles it proves its worth.

With the lever in D, shifts are smooth and take place at sensible engine speeds, allowing you to eke out the maximum mileage from the frugal motor. It's also a breeze in traffic and very undemanding. Move the lever into S when you're in a hurry and it holds the gears right through the peak of the torque band and there's an instant urgency to the way it drives. Finally you can take complete control using the wheel-mounted paddles, making it even easier to keep the engine in the go zone and in the right gear for a briskly-taken corner. That's another aspect of the Leon's impressive dual-personality. Although clearly firmer than the standard Leon, the FR still copes admirably with poor road conditions. Only the most unsightly and unreasonable potholes cause a disturbance – and that's more about the state of the road than the car.

The firmness is welcome on a challenging road, resulting in very little roll and confidence-inspiring amounts of grip. It doesn't fall into the trap of being twitchy, however, as the steering remains quite light and sharp but never challenging.

The Leon's practical side has also been given a stern test. Rather than enjoying a pampered running-in period, within days of arriving at its new home it was immediately drafted in for a tip run and swallowed several bin bags of garden rubbish and a pair of internal doors after some seat folding.

It's also proved to be more than capable of carrying two small children in the back seats and all the paraphernalia that goes with them... and there's still room for a normal-sized adult to squeeze between them on the rear bench.

In a little over a month the Leon covered almost 2,000 miles and with a box-fresh engine fuel economy is steadily improving with an overall average of 38.4mpg over a variety of roads and driving conditions.

As it loosens up, economy will improve still further, yet over a regular commute it's already managed an impressive 51.8mpg.

So far then, so good. But with the prospect of another 2,000 miles in a matter of weeks plus a family holiday, the Leon will have plenty of work to do.

Scrap

End of the road
for your vehicle?Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle.
That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD).
A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoringBERR

Enhancing Life Chances

Customer Service Team Manager

£26,320 – £29,136 per annum
Bishops Stortford Ref: 1582/E

We are looking for an experienced and highly motivated Customer Services Team Manager to join our busy team in Bishops Stortford. The team provides a first point of contact for our customers and visitors and the post holder will play a vital role in ensuring that our customers receive an efficient and professional service.

The successful applicant will work to provide a range of excellent customer services to residents across South Anglia, ensuring that the team is motivated, trained and equipped to deliver a high quality service at all times.

Applicants need to demonstrate excellent organisational and people management skills, experience of providing a quality customer service, the ability to work under pressure and to consistently meet deadlines and to be flexible and work on their own initiative.

Resident Involvement Manager

£31,517 – £34,755 per annum + car/cash allowance
Braintree Ref: 1579/E

Can you strategically lead and champion resident participation, providing advice and guidance on external standards and regulatory requirements?

Working closely with our residents, partner organisations and staff, the post holder will be responsible for maximising resident involvement and the range of opportunities available, whilst shaping our service development and decision-making processes within the context of the Resident Involvement Strategy.

We are seeking a dynamic, self-motivated, committed and multi-skilled person to join our team.

Resident Involvement Officer

£23,186 – £25,772 per annum + car/cash allowance
Braintree Ref: 1581/E

We are looking for someone who can work in partnership with colleagues to maximise resident participation by ensuring the effective delivery of the Doorstep Challenge and key RI activities. This will include the tenant's conference and the community spirit awards.

The successful applicant will work innovatively to maximise resident involvement and the range of opportunities available to have an input into South Anglia Housing's service development and decision-making processes.

Applicants need to demonstrate experience of delivering projects with or for members of the public, an understanding of issues facing inner-city and rural communities including housing and excellent communication and organisational skills.

Defending champs seal Panathlon title

CURRENT Essex Panathlon champions Harlow Fields School successfully defended their crown in the county final.

Pitched against Southview (Witham), Oakview (Loughton) and Beacon Hill (Thurrock) at the Riverside Sports Centre, Chelmsford, the champions powered through to retain the prestigious title for young disabled sports people.

They didn't have it all their own way. Southview and Beacon Hill were right on their heels and in the end finished joint second.

The event consists of six separate sporting events, including athletics, cricket, curling and polybat, with more than 100 young Essex disabled people taking part in a mini Paralympics final.

Danny Crates, Paralympic champion and panathlon charity patron, was in attendance to award medals and witness the action. He said: "I've seen some great Panathlon events in the last year and the performances by young disabled athletes has been inspiring. Many thanks from Panathlon to all our sponsors for enabling hundreds of local young disabled people play and enjoy sport."

The Panathlon Challenge is now in its 10th year. Spokesman Brian Shaw, said: "The joy and sense of achievement shown on the faces of all of those athletes was immense."

"The final was incredibly exciting and competitive! Everyone should be proud of their performances."

Bowen ruled out for season

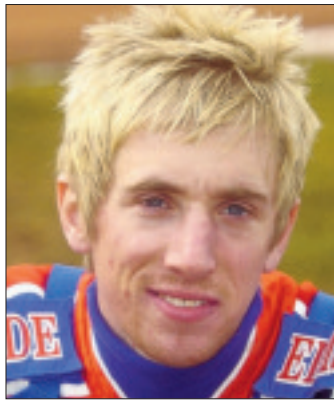

Speedway

RYE House Rockets have been dealt a double blow in what has been a disastrous week for a team chasing Premier League honours.

New signing Robbie Kessler stunned Rye House by announcing his retirement after just two matches for the Hoddesdon club, and promoter Len Silver received a further setback this week with the news that broken arm victim Luke Bowen, from Harlow, could be out for the rest of the campaign.

Kessler made his appearance in his first British meeting of the year after replacing Bowen, pictured right, in the team against King's Lynn last Wednesday.

He scored just three points from his five outings but they came via a great defensive effort against Kozza Smith in one race, and a battling second spot over Chris Mills in another. Kessler also fell while third in Heat 5.

The German scored a further paid four at Sheffield before dropping his bombshell.

Silver said: "I was delighted with the way he was performing, but he called me the morning after the Sheffield match to say he didn't want to ride any more.

"It came as a bolt out of the blue, I couldn't talk him round he had made up his mind to quit."

"It's left me high and dry as there aren't any riders of his quality to bring in on a short-term basis. We will find someone but it's certainly left a bit of hole."

Bowen, meanwhile, was due to have an operation today (Thursday) to have a metal plate inserted in his arm. "It was thought to have been a clean break but the bone hasn't lined up properly," said Silver. "It's a big blow for us, people don't realise what a vital cog he is in the side as a middle order rider. He often rises to the occasion."

Silver does at least have a week to sort things out as there is no official action at Rye House this weekend with the British Speedway Grand Prix at Cardiff.

Rockets will be back on home turf on July 18, when they tangle with King's Lynn in the Premier League and Silver is hoping that Stefan Ekberg will be back to full fitness. "He had a nasty fall at Birmingham, and then another tumble at Scunthorpe so his back is very sore."

Harlow Tn won by 65 runs
Herts & Essex League, division one

RAMAYA Upadhyay's century helped Harlow Town to a 65-run win over Newport in division one of the Herts and Essex Cricket League.

Vic Goddard's men are now just 21 points behind new leaders Epping Foresters, following Ilford Catholics' nine-wicket defeat against third-placed Farnham.

In a high-scoring game, Town hit a massive 297 after batting first at Ash Tree Field on Saturday.

Upadhyay top scored with 122 not out from just 77 balls.

He was aided by Shiraz Ali (58) and Charlie Coleman (69 not out).

Upadhyay shared a fourth-wicket partnership of 139 with Coleman as Town piled on the runs.

In reply, Newport were never up with the run rate despite a knock of 89 from Adrian Baker for the visitors.

Wickets fell regularly and

Ron Yates finished with a tidy four-wicket haul from his left arm spin.

Harlow Town II's completed a comprehensive six-wicket win over Chesham to move to second place in division three.

Town (106-4) dismissed their promotion-chasing rivals for just 105 with veteran slow bowler Nick Teale taking four wickets.

Potter Street (128-2) won by eight wickets against hosts Willingale (127) in the same division.

They are fifth just 17 points behind neighbours Harlow Town II.

Harlow Town IIIs (182-3) moved into third place in division six after beating Thundridge (180).

John Simpson top scored with 41.

Potter Street II still have an outside chance of promotion in division seven despite a crushing defeat at home to leaders Three Caps.

Street were wiped out for 52, before Three Caps notched up 54-2 to win by eight wickets.

The Church Langley-based side are fourth in the table.

Crunch time for Harlow!

This left Benfleet struggling at 110-6.

However, Andrew Scott's rapid 37 from 43 balls ramped up the scoreboard.

Chris Coldicott finished with 35 from 42 balls.

In reply, Harlow opener Rehman Ahmed was dismissed for a duck and his side were 0-1.

Nilesh Modhwadia (32) and Khawaja put on 52 before the latter was given out lbw by Alan Pritchard jnr after hitting 26 from 28 balls.

McNally (21 from 18 balls) and James Butler (12) failed to make a big impact, while Modhwadia was also dismissed lbw by David Miles.

Golam Evan (0) and Lee Jessey (5) also went cheaply as the visitors found themselves staring down the barrel at 117-7.

Monger's gritty 40 from 63 balls and his partnerships with Andrew McGarry (23 in 24 balls) and Heskett (25 from 36 balls) gave Harlow a sniff of victory.

However, Heskett could not find the required four from the last ball.

Gareth Steed took 4-67 from his 17 overs.

McNally added: "Luke bowled fantastically well. He worked hard. We had a couple of lobs that did not go our way."

BIG YEAR LOOMS FOR ENGLAND COMMONWEALTH GAMES ACE CHLOE

By DAVID RIMMER
david.rimmer@hertsessexnews.co.uk

PLAYING in the 2012 London Olympics is the ultimate goal for Harlow-born hockey international Chloe Rogers but the talented player has a few hurdles to leap first.

The 25-year-old has accrued a lot of experience at the top level since her first England cap in 2003.

Rogers relished the experience of representing Great Britain at the 2008 Olympic Games in Beijing, China. This was her first appearance at the Olympics.

Her biggest achievement to date was helping England seal the bronze medal at the Commonwealth Games in Australia in 2006.

Rogers will need to draw on that experience as she is about to embark on an extremely tough schedule for England.

The national team will compete in the Champions Trophy at Nottingham which starts this Saturday and goes onto July 18.

Rogers also hopes to win selection for England at the Women's World Cup in Argentina (August 30 to September 12) and the Commonwealth Games in New Delhi, India (October 3-14).

"It's going to be a pretty tough few months. In 2006 there were bigger gaps between these tournaments," she said.

"There will be only six days here [in England] after we come back from Argentina before we go to New Delhi. There will also be the different time zones to get used to."

However, Rogers will go into these events on the back of a very successful treble-winning season with her club Leicester.

This was her second season in the Midlands after joining from Chelmsford.

She hopes to replicate this form and is aiming for a repeat of her form in 2006.

Rogers scored in the penalty shoot-out against New Zealand in the third play-off match, which earned England the bronze medal.

It will be a tough ask this time around though and Rogers says the side is bidding to bounce back from a disappointing 2009.

England were bottom in the Champions Trophy last year and finished 7th at the World Cup.

"We had a fantastic year at Leicester and want to transfer the winning culture to England," she said.

"Training with England is a full-time thing and we are trying to climb up the world rankings."

She added: "In the World Cup last time we finished 7th. We were close to making the semi-final. We ended up drawing against Spain. We needed to beat them. It was very disappointing not to make the semi-finals."

"The Champions Trophy is every year. We finished 6th [out of six teams]. It was disappointing. We had a number of new faces after Beijing. We can only improve on that."

"You want to try and get medals in every tournament you are in but the Commonwealth Games gives us the best chance of a medal. Strong teams like Germany and Argentina are not in it and it has [plenty of] media coverage."

Rogers is obviously not keen to settle in a comfort zone. Chelmsford are a successful club but the excellent coaching on offer at Leicester was a factor in her moving up to the Midlands.

She also feels confident at the top level and that she still has to peak as a player.

"I moved to Leicester after Beijing. I thought I would try a new club," she said. "The coaches had a good reputation and I was training up at Loughborough [at the England base] a lot."

"I have played in all the major tournaments now and am 25. Twenty six or twenty seven is probably your peak as a player."

Unlike some sports people who live in their own bubble, Rogers is firmly in touch with the grassroots level of the game she loves. She is also grateful to the help given by close pal Lisa Wooding, also from west Essex. The two broke into the England team at about the same time.

Rogers is employed full-time by Essex County Council as a sporting ambassador to youngsters in schools across the region.

"I give talks to kids and get the chance to pass on my skills," she said.

"Lisa showed a path way and she helped me with tactics and gave me good tips."

Rogers is keeping her feet on the ground about the London 2012 Olympics but hopes to be there as part of the Great Britain squad.

"It's a long way off but everyone wants to be [playing] at London and it would be fantastic to play in your own country at the Olympics," she said.

"There could also be girls coming through from the U-21 squad."

"There are also the Scottish girls. Competition for places will be tough and there will be quite a few players who do not make it having worked hard to do so."

Hall boys make Mark

MARK Hall Football Club's U-13 team will be hoping to build on the success they enjoyed at U-12 level last season.

The side entered the Cheshunt Youth Football League and finished second.

They then went on to win the Cheshunt Inter-league Cup.

The boys also won the Springfield 5-a-side summer tournament, one of numerous competitions they have entered in a busy period for the Harlow side.

Manager Trevor Wood said: "The boys played brilliantly over the season. The team are extremely dedicated and talented and have deserved the wins they have had."

Great start in new home for Harlow Squash Club

HARLOW's second team picked up a stylish 3-0 win in their first squash league game at their new Leisurezone home.

Having switched from their old Sportcentre base in Hammarskjold Road, the side defeated Ware-based Allenburys in division four of the Herts Squash League.

First string Vinh Tram got off to a good start winning his opening two sets 15-10, 15-12 but then let his opponent back in by losing a close third set 13-15.

Vinh then stormed back to form by winning the fourth set 15-12 for a 3-1 win.

Second string Keeley Peacock got off to an even easier start winning her first two sets very comfortably 15-7, 15-7.

She also let her opponent in by losing her concentration and the third set 11-15 but then also recovered her focus by winning the fourth set 15-10 for a 3-1 win.

Third string Peter Izatt won a completely one sided first set 15-3.

An easy second set (15-9) followed, but he then struggled to a very hard fought and close third set 16-14 for a straight sets victory.

The first team were without a fixture this week and are yet to play at their new home.

Wimbledon delight for Morris

>>Cont'd from back
He added: "But Tara's focus slipped and Laura was good enough to punish her."

The coach believes Tara and Timea will also shine in the junior competitions at the final Grand Slam of the year, the U.S Open at Flushing Meadows in September. Morris also coaches Essex youngster Rob Carter, who only missed out on an appearance in the Junior Boys Singles at Wimbledon when he was drawn against the eventual Boys Singles finalist and semi-final conqueror of Britain's Ollie Golding, Aussie Ben Mitchell.

"Progress [in the English game] is definitely being made," he added.

Morris is also the coach for the Great Britain youth tennis team. However, the LTA has surprisingly opted not to send a team out to Singapore for the Youth Olympics later this year.

Golfers reach Thornton Cup last 16

A BRILLIANT display from Canons Brook Golf Club's Thornton Cup team secured a place in the last 16 of the prestigious competition.

The Harlow club defeated Essex rivals Boyce Hill in a close-fought contest.

Home advantage proved crucial as the result was very tight at 8½ to 6½.

At lunch the scores were level at 2½ each, so it was all to play for in the afternoon singles.

Canons Brook won the first three games but Boyce levelled by winning the next three.

However, the tail rallied and managed three wins out of the last four games, with Simon Hartley winning a very close encounter 1 up to clinch the overall victory.

The team was Steve Jones, Stuart Weeks, Kieran Brownell, Andrew Thomson, Simon Hartley, John Withington, Darren Pegram, John Weeks, Tyler Wink, and Colin Ledwith.

Canons Brook will visit Warley Park for a place in the quarter-finals.

Perry good!

PERRY Rowan (13) clocked a personal best 1,500m time of 4 mins, 40 secs at Watford last Wednesday.

This time for U-14s places the Burnt Mill School youngster third in the East Region.

At Manchester in the UK Women's Premier League Kirsty McIntosh was 4th in the B string pole vault in 3.20m, helping her club Woodford to 5th place.

Football club launches £10 season tickets for U-16s

HARLOW Town FC have launched a series of initiatives to boost the club's fan-base ahead of the new season.

Supporters under 16 can buy a season ticket for just £10. This will entitle youngsters to a seat for all 21 league games and averages out at less than 50p per game.

There will also be half-price entry to Harlow Town league fixtures for holders of season tickets with Barclays Premiership or Coca-Cola Football League clubs. This is for adults and children and aimed at tapping into followers of London clubs who don't go to away games.

Further information is available at the club's new-look website www.harlowtownfc.net

To order season tickets contact htfcmembership@hotmail.co.uk or by visiting the stadium on a weekday between 10am-4pm or alternatively call (01279) 443196.

The Ryman League division one north fixtures are set to be released next week.

Hawks boss adds to squad

SIGNINGS: Hawks manager Kevin Warren

HAWKS manager Kevin Warren is looking at adding a couple of youngsters to his first team squad and could bring in striker Gavin Brooke.

The Harlow-based youngster has been selected for the England Disability team that will compete at the European Championships in May.

Brooke, of Holly Field, has had two brain tumours removed and underwent life-saving surgery when he had to stay awake while surgeons operated on him.

Last season the forward played for Harlow Town reserves but mainly for Harlow-based Bishop's Stortford, Stansted & District League side Frontiers.

"Gavin is training with us. We are looking at him to see if he's good enough," said Warren.

The squad began pre-season training on Monday ahead of the first friendly at Sawbridgeworth Town on July 17.

Warren has been pleased with the overall fitness of the squad.

"Everyone has turned up that I had hoped. There are a few people we are having a look at," he said. "We have put the players through a couple of tests and nearly every player has come through better than expected. They are looking fitter and in shape. We are a little bit ahead of schedule."

Warren will assess experienced centre-half Leo Roget before making a decision on his future. "He must prove his fitness and commitment to the club," warned Warren.

The Hawks boss hopes to bring in a Ryman premier target man up front and is considering two options, but at this stage cannot name them.

He also wants to boost his squad with a winger who has played at Ryman premier level.

"There is one on trial at another club at the moment," he said.

Meanwhile, ex-Harlow Town centre-half Jack Lampe is training with Cambridge United and hoping to tie up a deal at the Blue Square Premier club.

Holidays, injuries take toll in final road race league

HOPES of finishing second in the Herts/Essex Midweek Road Race League vanished as Harlow Running Club paid the price for fielding a depleted team.

With many top order runners out to injury or holidays Harlow failed to pick up enough points and finished fourth out of six overall.

They were four points behind the second-placed team after the final race of the series last Wednesday on a warm and muggy evening at Welwyn Garden City over a five-mile course.

The men's team finished in a disappointing 5th place, the women's team were 4th, but the men's veteran team were second.

First Harlow runner to finish was Jamie Jephcott in 17th place in a superb 31 minutes and 2 seconds.

He was followed home by Steve Mackenzie in 23rd (31.39) and John Tennant in 24th (2nd Vet 60, 31.43).

First Harlow woman to finish was Sharon Wright in 7th in an excellent 35.25.

She was followed home by Bryony Maddams in 10th (35.59) and Katie Herrington in 27th (38.47).

The final league positions show the men's team in 4th, just 1 point off 2nd; the women's team in 4th three points off 2nd; and the men's vet team in 2nd.

Individually John Tennant was runner-up in the overall vet 60 and Sharon Wright was 3rd senior lady.

It's crunch time!

Harlow simply must beat promotion rivals

JASON McNally is targeting no less than a win from Saturday's home match against second-placed Buckhurst Hill if Harlow are to get their promotion quest back on track.

The Marigolds men were left frustrated by some shocking time wasting in their draw at Benfleet on Saturday. Skipper McNally said this result has left him with no alternative but to go all out for the win against Buckhurst Hill.

Prior to this he would have been happy to bat it out and get a draw, but the results last weekend enabled Hill to overtake McNally's men in the top two promotion spots in division two of the Shepherd Neame Essex League.

Harlow won the reverse fixture but lost to Buckhurst Hill in the Essex League Cup at the start of the season.

McNally said: "That's the big one. We were going to cut our losses and bat them out of the game but now we are behind. I am looking to beat them. They are a good team. I hold them in higher regard than [leaders] Harold Wood. They are going to be hard to beat."

Wicket-keeper James Butler is unavailable as he is at a wedding.

Seconds skipper Ryan Jessey is promoted to the firsts.

Benfleet were docked three points for their time-wasting against Harlow. Needing three off the last ball, Luke Heskett – who had earlier claimed a brilliant 5-27 – tried to slog a boundary but to no avail as the visitors chased 208-9.

The East Essex side battled back from 84-5 at one point.

In reply, Harlow only had 44 overs and scored 206-9 (Luke Monger 40) when time ran out.

Earlier, the hosts started well with Chris Webb (23) and Jess Hancock (32) putting on 53 for the first wicket.

Webb was given out lbw by Ahmed Khawaja while Hancock was the first of Heskett's 'five for'.

This heralded a purple patch for young Heskett who removed Andrew Jenkins (4), Paul Tremain (10), James Walkinshaw (2), and Mike Tremain (13) and finished with excellent figures of 10-1-27-5.

Wimbledon delight for tennis coach Morris

By ALAN SCOTT
Sports Editor
alan.scott@hertsessexnews.co.uk

TENNIS coach John Morris watched with pride as his star pupil completed back-to-back Grand Slam junior titles at this year's Wimbledon.

Having secured her first Grand Slam title at the French Open, Hungarian-born Timea Babos joined forces with doubles partner Sloane Stephens (USA) to take the Junior Girls title at SW19 on Sunday.

Morris (28), of Ram Gorse in Harlow, has been coaching 17-year-old Timea in his role as Senior Academy Coach at Gosling Sports Park in Welwyn Garden City.

When Timea (and Sloane) won the doubles in Paris, Morris became the first British coach to take a player to a junior Grand Slam title for 14 years.

Morris has been working with Timea for the last 18 months. "She is winning Grand Slams already and there are things in her game we can improve. It's frightening what she can do," he said.

She teamed up with Sloane again to beat Russian Irina Khromacheva and Ukrainian Elina Svitolina 6-2, 6-2 in the final.

Morris, who has worked at Gosling Park for the last three years, said: "She has really embraced what we are doing. She came from the LTA having won very few matches. She was at a low ebb. We have worked very hard with her."

He also coaches Tara Moore at the Hertfordshire complex.

The 17-year-old from Yorkshire lost to Great Britain golden girl Laura Robson in the quarter-finals of the Junior Girls Singles at Wimbledon.

Tara won praise from former Men's Doubles Grand Slam winner Peter Fleming, who he picked out as one for the future.

"When Tara lost to Laura Robson her focus switched to the score and she paid the price, but that was great for us as we have been trying to impress on her that it's the performance that matters," said Morris.

"Fleming said she [Tara] was an incredibly talented girl. She has an unbelievable future ahead of her. I'm really happy for both girls."

He puts the girls' success down to a strong team ethic. He works alongside a physio, fitness instructor and psychologist to move the players forward.

"It's very much a team effort. We are all buzzing at the moment. We waited so long for a Grand Slam Champion and now we've had two in a month."

Far from being limited to Robson, Morris believes the future is very bright for the British game despite huge criticism in this country and of the LTA (Lawn Tennis Association) which has plunged millions of pounds into the game.

At the pre-Wimbledon tournament at Roehampton, Tara reached the junior girls final when up against top young players from across the world.

"Both girls showed that in a relaxed mindset they are virtually unstoppable. They are formidable. Tara was 5-3 up against Laura [Robson]. Laura had no answer."

Established in 1964, the Journalism Centre in Harlow has been producing successful journalists for nearly 50 years.

Piers Morgan and Richard Madeley are two of the most well-known alumni, alongside Phil Hall, former editor of the News of the World.

As the media world evolves beyond traditional print media to include new media, there are new skills to be learnt and developed.

"Everyone on that course got a job on a local newspaper. I was the last because I insisted on London; I'd been told the stories were juiciest in London and could be sold to the national newspapers."

Piers Morgan interview with The Independent, May 8, 2008.

Following his journalism course at Harlow College, Piers' career began in South London newspapers. He caught the eye of The Sun's editor Kelvin MacKenzie, who gave him his own showbiz column in the paper. In 1994, aged only 28, he became editor of News of the World, and in 1996, he joined The Mirror as editor, where he stayed until 2004.

Since then, Piers has presented a number of TV shows. He shot to fame in America on the top rated show America's Got Talent, and in the UK, Piers is perhaps best known as a judge on Britain's Got Talent.

He is a best-selling author and also writes for The Mail on Sunday and GQ.

"I use what I learned at Harlow (College) all the time, and certainly in live TV interviews where on-the-spot judgements are necessary."

In 30 years of TV, I've never been sued for libel or been dragged before a judge because of something I asked or said. Plenty of news stories and headlines have been generated from TV interviews but thanks to Harlow, both myself and my wife and co-presenter Judy Finnigan, who was on a different postgraduate training scheme, know where the limits lie."

Richard Madeley interview with the Daily Express, May 12, 2009.

After studying at Harlow College, Richard began his career as a local journalist in Essex. At 19, he joined BBC Cumbria as a news producer and presenter. Various regional reporting and presenting followed until 1982, when Richard settled at Granada TV and started working with Judy Finnigan.

In October 1988, Richard and Judy recorded their first episode of This Morning from the Albert Dock in Liverpool. They went on to present the programme for 13 years, becoming Britain's favourite TV couple. In 2001, Richard and Judy joined Channel 4 to present their chat show Richard & Judy.

Dan Alcock, Journalism BA (Hons), 2nd Year Student

"I have always wanted to go into journalism and I decided to study at Harlow as I had heard about how good the reputation was for the journalism course."

I am in my second year of study, and I am really enjoying my course. So many aspects of the journalism industry are covered, including: magazines, news writing, video, shorthand and photo-journalism. You really get an all-round experience that includes all you could possibly need to succeed in the industry.

The amount of guest speakers we have had on our course is really impressive. These have included editors and photographers from Haymarket Publishers and BBC magazines and you can really learn a lot from them.

I rate the support from teaching staff very highly. The feedback we get from our tutors is very helpful. You don't need to book an appointment to talk to a member of staff, as there is always somebody there when you need them.

Motor racing is my passion and I love going to races and shows. My ideal job would be to work for a motoring magazine."

Sophie Warner, Journalism BA (Hons), 3rd Year Student

"Since the age of 11, I have wanted to be a journalist!"

So far, I have really enjoyed my course. I really like the smaller class sizes because you get to know each other better and you get a much higher level of support from the tutors.

Work placements I have undertaken have been helpful in helping me decide which career path to take. I currently work one day a week in a local newspaper office, but I've also worked in London on magazines such as Reveal and Love It! My ambition is to be a successful journalist, hopefully in newspapers. The wide range of different skills I'm learning is enhancing my CV.

The Feature Writing module I have found particularly enjoyable. I also enjoyed the Politics module, especially with this being an election year. I would definitely recommend this course as it offers a lot of options for budding journalists because of the variety of the different modules on offer, such as Photography, Online and Video Journalism."
